

The Lyons Community Church Mid-Week Message

Friday, October 21, 2016

Greetings Friends,

Wow! This month of October is flying by! For me it has been a month of family renewal, clergy connection, and professional development! Oh and also many birthdays in our family! What a blessing all of this has been to me. I am excited about all that is happening in the life of the church, both locally and beyond.

At the recent Worship Design Studio Planning Retreat that I attended I was inspired by ways in which we are already doing worship well as well as ways that we can take our worship experiences to the next level. I look forward to working with the Lyons Community Church Worship Team as well as all others who are interested in getting involved, in the coming months to see where the Spirit is leading us as a church! For more information about the Worship Design Studio, go to:

This week our focus will be on a relatively well know man, but maybe not the most likely of heroes, John the Baptist. John was born to older parents. He was born of priestly lineage, but was not a priest. John lived a life of solitude, but yet was the one born and sent to prepare the way for Jesus. He was a devout follower of Christ and what Christ taught. This Sunday we will take some time to look at John's life and ministry, as well as what makes him a hero.

I look forward to gathering together on Sunday as we continue our study of some of the Unlikely Heroes of the Bible!

Blessings,

Pastor Emily

CLOSE TO HOME
MAKE HOMELESSNESS HISTORY IN COLORADO

This Longmont Call to Action is a follow-up to last year's Homeless Awareness Symposium!

The goal is to introduce community-based solutions to solving homelessness, highlighting faith-based and non-traditional housing models. The event will also launch the Close to the Home campaign in Longmont, identify 'champions' and offer an array of resources and experts to guide World Cafe style small group dialogue.

Together we will make homelessness history!

October 27th

6 - 9 pm
